

Senior Plant Breeder (m/f/x) Industry: Agriculture industry

About the Company:

Our client is a leading international research company in the crop production sector. Dr. Newzella Consulting is exclusively looking for a

Senior Plant Breeder (m/f/x)

based in Southern Germany with the following profile:

Key Responsibilities & Tasks:

- Deliver new performing products for the target market segments
- Design optimal breeding strategies and schemes for the program
- Develop a strong expertise of the germplasm of the breeding program at molecular and phenotype level
- Planning, structuring and analysis of field trials (including definition of the test network; nursery and hybrid production experiments)
- Participation and/or management of technical and interdisciplinary projects for process optimisation and introduction of new methods and technologies
- Reporting line: Head of Corn Breeding

Requirements:

- Master's degree or doctorate in the field of biology, agricultural sciences, or plant breeding
- Several years of professional experience and profound expertise in the fields of plant breeding (cereals, vegetables, or fruits) as well as experimental cultivation
- Experience in technical project work and management
- Team player with excellent communication skills
- High motivation and initiative
- Very good written and spoken English
- High willingness to travel

About us:

Dr. Newzella Consulting and its 30+ employees have been operating in the management and personnel consultancy sector for over 40 years. Our personnel consultants help our clients to fill a wide range of positions. Each year, we find approx. 80 specialist and managerial staff (m/f): from KAMs to CEOs. Our management consultants offer our clients a range of services from purchasing and selling companies, products and licences to developing business strategies.

Contact details

Please send us your complete set of application documents including:

- CV incl. a photograph
- All letters of reference
- Last school certificate
- Certificates regarding seminars, further education courses, further training courses

We look forward to receiving your application. All information submitted will be treated confidentially.

Our project team can be contacted as follows:

Doris Dahlke
Project Manager
+49 (0) 2508 99 42 - 116
doris.dahlke@newzella.com

Dr. Fabian Galla
Senior Consultant
+49 (0) 171 - 30 83 82 5
fabian.galla@newzella.com